

Affinity Mentoring is an organization in Grand Rapids and Wyoming that supports young people connecting with mentors. In an effort to listen well to stakeholders, Affinity conducted a community survey over a three week period. This will be used as a step in creating a regular cycle of public feedback on our work, and giving power to the community to speak into where we will direct our resources and which projects we will prioritize.

98% of respondents believe Affinity's work is important to our community.

79% of respondents believe Affinity is fulfilling its purpose.
